

INSIDE OUT
UNDERDECK PROTECTION

Give your home more space!

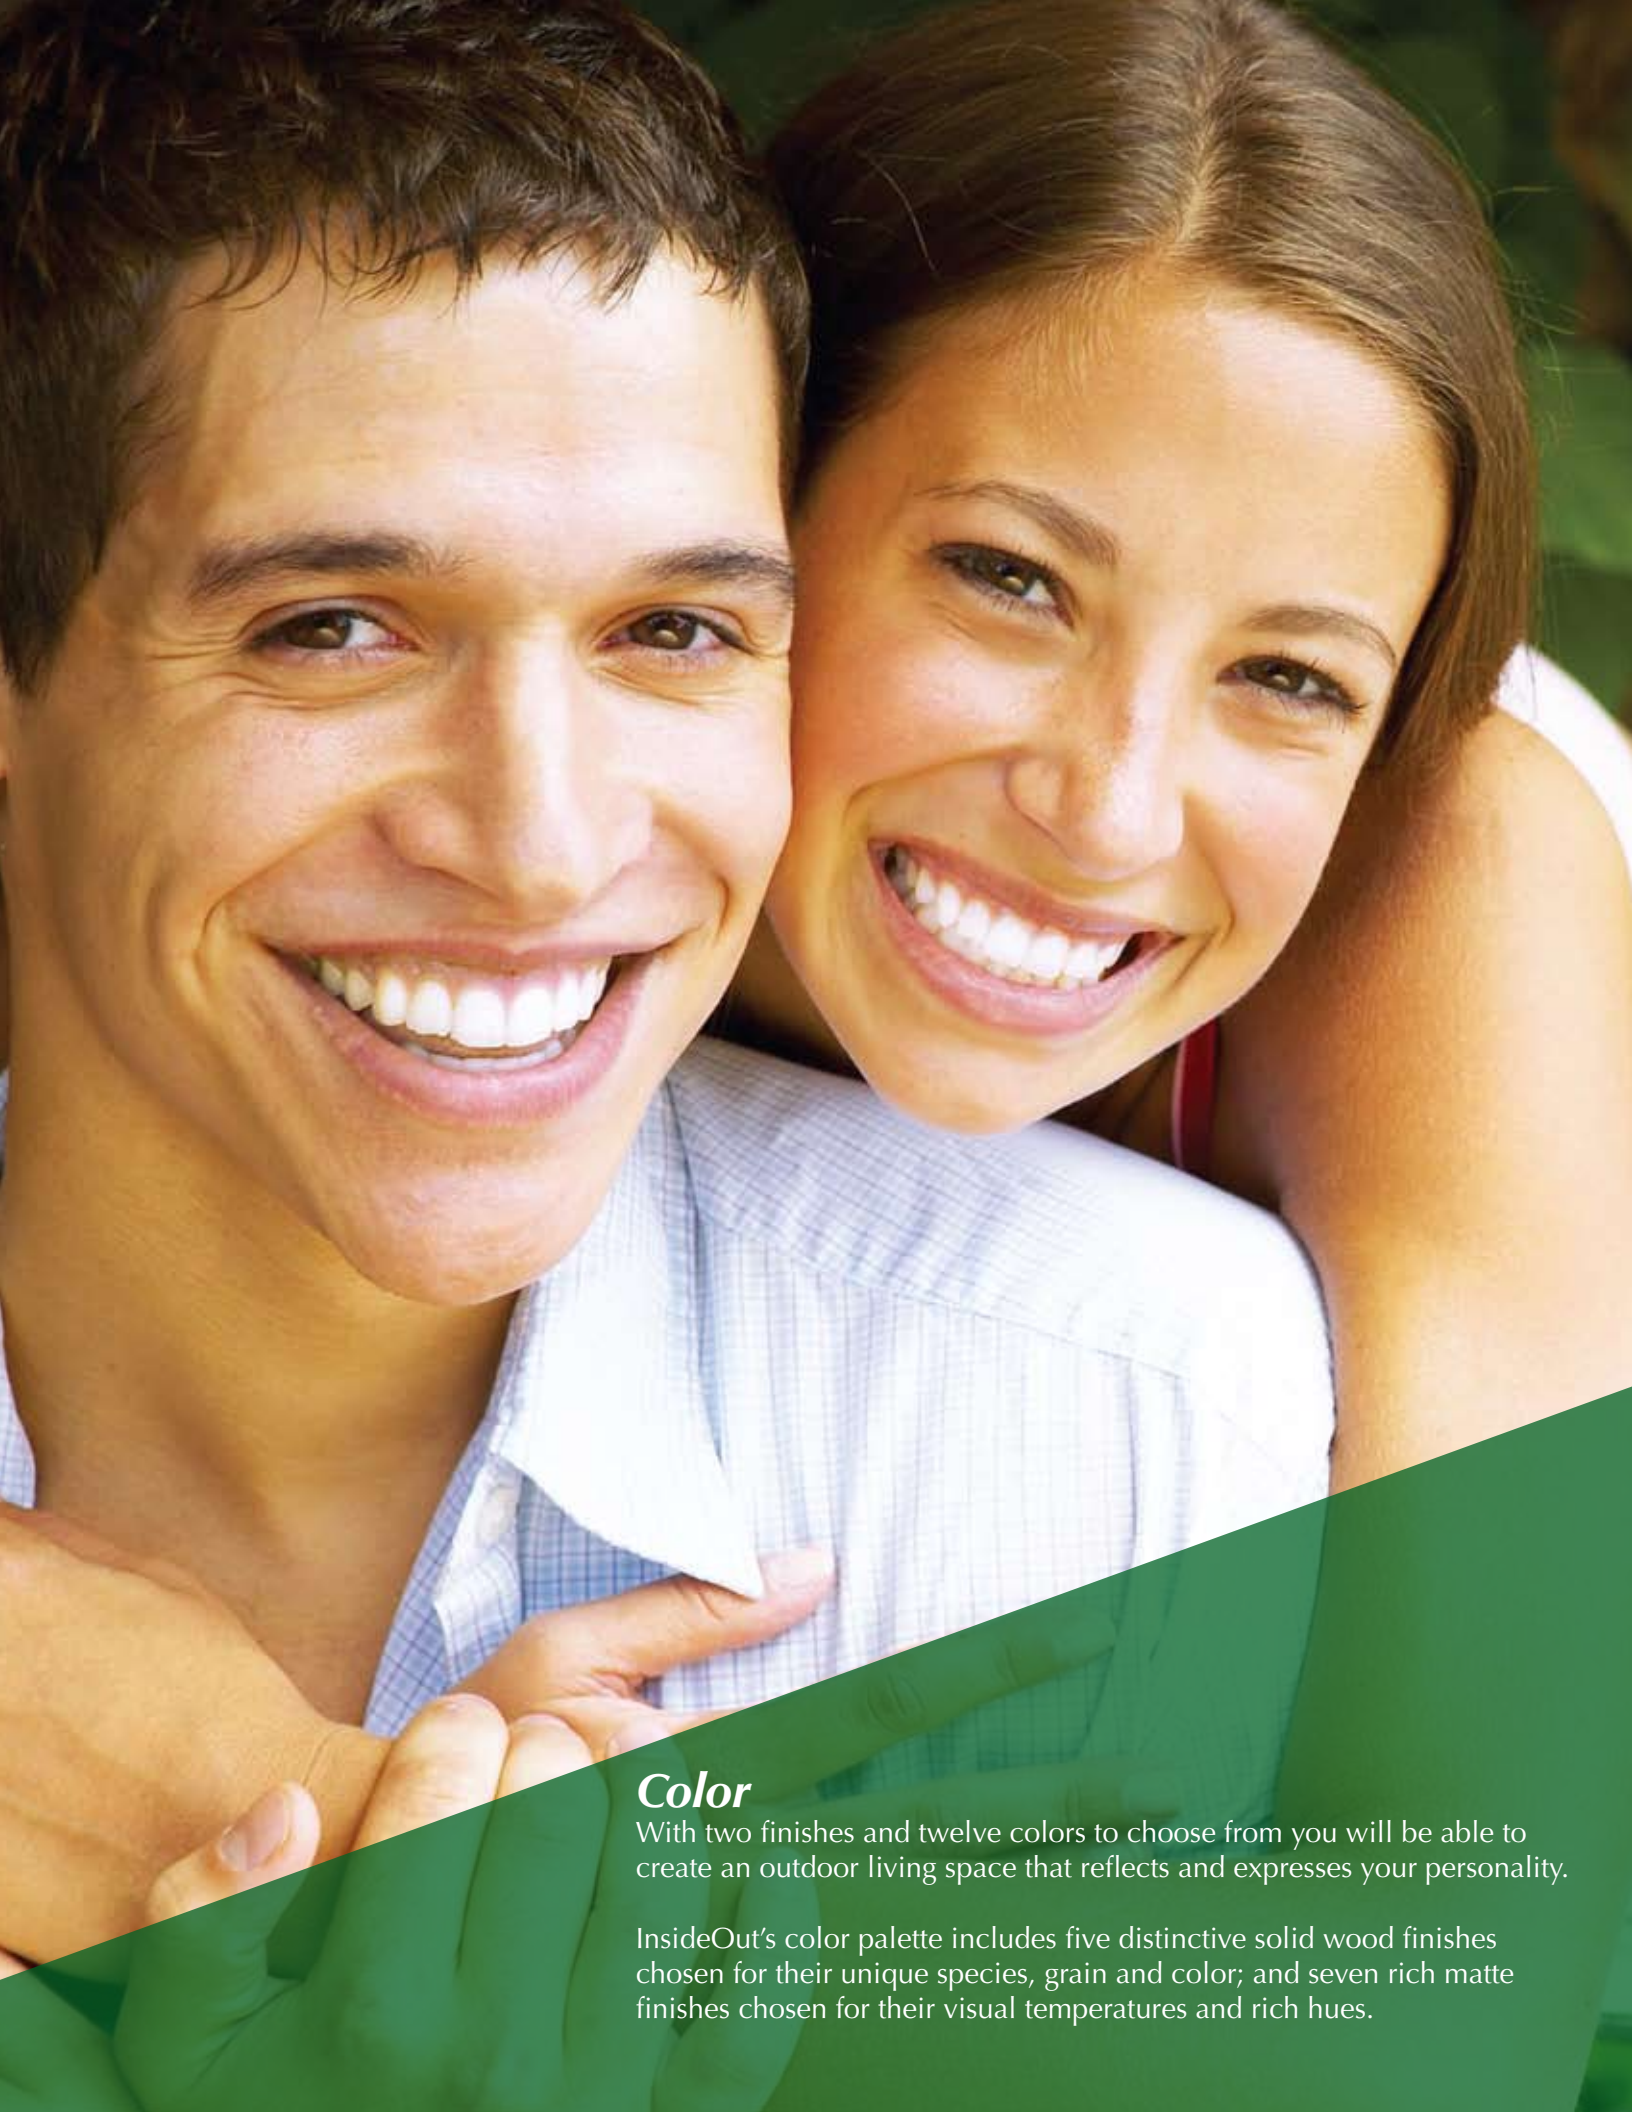

Expand your living space with InsideOut's patented composite ceiling panels. InsideOut beautifies your home's deck from beneath! No more exposed nails, dirty rafters, and water hazards associated with your home's deck.

InsideOut ceiling panels channel the water away from your home, keeping the area below your deck dry and enjoyable for outdoor living. These specially designed ceiling panels and deep water brackets have been tested and approved to handle over 15" of water an hour.

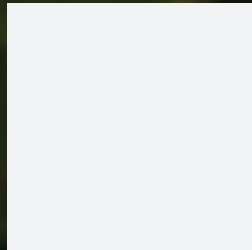

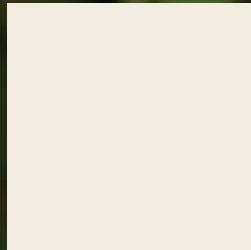

Color

With two finishes and twelve colors to choose from you will be able to create an outdoor living space that reflects and expresses your personality.

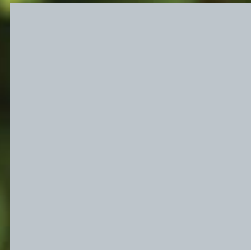

InsideOut's color palette includes five distinctive solid wood finishes chosen for their unique species, grain and color; and seven rich matte finishes chosen for their visual temperatures and rich hues.

"Our investment in InsideOut paid off the day it was installed. We sit out there for hours relaxing or playing games with our neighbors. Weather no longer is an issue and it's pretty to look at from indoors. It really enhances the beauty and functionality of our lower level."

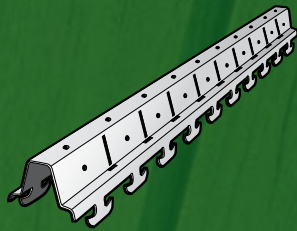

-Kathy Cornelius
